Determine Cause Of Youth's Death

A Lakeshore youth died suddenly Tuesday night of undisclosed cause while he and friends were attending the Bay Skate Way on DeMontluzin St.

Michael T. Fuch, 17-year-old Hancock North Central High School student, was pronounced dead on arrival at Hancock General Hospital about 8:55 p.m.

Earlier in the evening, Fuch, his brother Gregory, 15, and Fritz Garcia, 17, had driven to the Bay Skate Way on DeMontluzin St. where they met other friends. Bay Police Chief William Carbonette said he was told by Fuch's companions that while they were playing a pinball machine, the youth suddenly complained of pains in his chest. On their suggestion he left the skating rink to lie down in the car.

A few minutes later, Carbonette said, Gregory and Fritz found Fuch still in the car, unconscious. The two then notified Martin Morreale, manager of the skating rink, who suggested that Michael be taken to the hospital. Joe Griffin, both 17, accompanied the four to Hancock General.

Results of an autopsy performed Tuesday morning to determine the cause of death were not revealed by press time.

County School Board Fails To Approve Day Care Staff

New changes taking place in the county school board were reflected at a Tuesday morning meeting when Horace (Red) Davis was installed as president of the board, and John Banks was sworn in as a new member of the board, replacing Edward Ortle.

In the first order of business, Superintendent Kenneth McCarty asked the board's approval of staff members for the two Day Care Centers opening under the Title IV-A program. McCarty told the board that he expected to have the centers in operation this week, one in a rented building in the Kiln community and the other in the county-owned school building in Lakeshore.

An objection to use of the Lakeshore School was voiced by board member Tommy Shaw who said he felt the Day Care Center would be an infringement on students in the special education school now located in that building.

Shaw said, "I would rather see the board rent another building than displace the retarded children because those children are special." Banks agreed with Shaw stating that he felt combining the two groups would be detrimental to the special education students. McCarty explained that the school system had to provide matching funds for the Title IV-A program and the less spent on building rentals the more money would be available for other needed expenditures. No action was taken on the matter.

Board President Davis read aloud the list of center staff members which McCarty said had been chosen by his wife, appointed administrator of the program. Considered for the Kiln Center were Mrs. Gayle Ladner, teacher, Margaret Cuevas, Barbara Ladner and Barbara Cameron, teachers aids, and Mrs. Dupont, cook.

The list for the Lakeshore School included Mrs. Robert McQueen, Nelda Gay Ladner, Annette Seal, Mrs. Bernice Garriga and Mrs. Melba Neale, bus driver.

When the Echo reporter asked to see the list for a name she had missed, McCarty refused to show it saying, "I don't have to show you this list. I'm not going to give it to you - you don't have any reason to see it." Banks countered his refusal stating that the press had every right to see the names that had just been read as "this is an open meeting and everyone has the right to know what's going on." Banks then supplied the missing name.

The board was apparently reluctant to grant official approval to the proposed staffs as a motion for blanket acceptance died for lack of a second. McCarty said he would take the matter to program officials in Jackson.

In an unrelated matter, a motion was passed to change the status of Glen Ladner from head bus mechanic to that of the only mechanic and grant a salary increase to reflect the additional responsibilities.

Minutes were read of a December 18 recessed meeting during which past President Ortle presented a report on a board inspection of Lakeshore School. The inspection came as a result of repeated complaints of malfunctioning plumbing and poor maintenance at the school. In the report, Ortle said that although the school was found to be generally clean one of the toilets was found to be malfunctioning. A recommendation was submitted to have the plumbing repaired. The consensus was that prior complaints of the building's condition were greatly exaggerated.

At a later meeting a motion was recorded empowering individual school principals to discharge lunchroom personnel at their own discretion. Minutes of both meetings were accepted.

Shaw introduced a discussion of misuse of school vehicles and asked for a motion placing closer supervision on maintenance vehicles and drivers. Banks told the board that he had verified reports of two school pickup trucks "running all over the county during the holidays on other than school business". A motion was passed unanimously calling for all maintenance vehicles to be used strictly for school business, and any instances of unauthorized use such as private hauling will result in the immediate dismissal of the driver.

A discussion of a change in meeting schedules led to a board decision to hold one day and one evening meeting on a regular basis each month. The next meeting was set for January 8 at 6 p.m.

CREDIT UNION
The annual meeting of the Bay-Waveland Federal Credit Union will be held on Monday January 8, at 7 p.m. at the Valena C. Jones building in the offices of the Senior Citizens Center. All shareholders are urged to attend. Election of officers for the year 1973 will be held.

MASS SCHEDULE
The following is the new schedule for Masses at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church:
Saturday - Vigil Mass 5:30 p.m.
Sunday - Masses 7, 9 and 11 a.m. and 5:30 p.m.

STIEFFEL WINS SUGAR BOWL RACE
Woody Stieffel and his crew Bobby Eagan and Kay Kergosien of Bay-Waveland Yacht Club won the 30th Annual Sugar Bowl Race of Champions at Southern Yacht Club on Lake Pontchartrain over the weekend.

Winds up to 40 miles an hour provided hazardous conditions for some very exciting races. Bubba Kleinschmidt of Buckner Yacht Club, Mobile, offered some stiff competition, finishing second with one first and two seconds. Stieffel won the final race to secure his championship with two firsts and a third.

In the open Flying Scot Class, Harry Chapman of BWYC, defending 1971 Sugar Bowl champion, won a solid victory with two firsts and a second.

Bill Heansler, BWYC, earned a third place in his Eastern 30 "Wahoo".

Board Approves Raises For County Employees

Hancock County supervisors started the new year off at a Tuesday meeting by granting pay raises to all county employees, the amounts ranging from 25 cents an hour for hourly beat employees to as much as $40 per month to salaried workers.

Sheriff Sylvan Ladner's earlier battle with the board paid off with full time deputies being raised from $600 per month to $633 and an increase to $350 per month for radio operators, auxiliary deputies, janitor and turnkey.

All employees in Tax Collector-Assessor George Heitzmann's office received pay increases of varying amounts providing what Heitzmann described as a "more equitable pay scale".

County Veterans-Service

Officer Chester Curvey was given a $40 per month raise and all other county workers' pay was upped by $25.

An additional 25 cents an hour was granted to beat employees now working under the following scale: laborers, $1.50 an hour; truck drivers, $2 an hour; heavy equipment operators, $2.50 an hour.

In an unrelated matter, Board President Alton Kellar stated, "The county lost one of the best citizens it ever had and the courthouse lost a man who'll be awfully hard to replace", referring to Lamar Otis, whose December 31 death left the post of circuit clerk vacant. The board unanimously appointed his son, Henry, an assistant in the circuit clerk's office, as acting circuit clerk to fill the vacancy until the position could be filled by general election.

According to state law the first primary election will be scheduled for Saturday, February 17 and the second primary held March 3. In a related action, a motion was passed unanimously to pay tribute to Lamar Otis along with former President Harry Truman by flying the courthouse flag at half-mast for 30 days.

Reorganizing the traditional new year practice of reorganizing the board Kellar alluded to the possibility of his stepping down as board president, calling for a re-election. However, Beat Five Supervisor James Travlica's motion, seconded by Beat One Supervisor Jerry Ladner, was carried unanimously, reappointing Kellar as president for the coming year.

Other county appointments included reinstatement of Mrs. Beverly Colon to the Mosquito Control Board as well as reinstatement of Wilson Webb and Roy Baxter to the County Planning Commission.

Bids were opened and accepted for only three of the many submitted for various county services. A single bid by the Sea Coast Echo for official county publications was accepted as was the single bid submitted by Shell Oil Company for fuel. Hancock Bank's bid for county depositories was retained by board approval.

In an uncontested motion, Rubie Griffin was reappointed as board attorney at a salary of $300 per month.

Other bids for services will be opened at a recessed meeting Tuesday, 11 a.m.

A year-end report on fire ant eradication program, submitted to the board by Hugh Sanford, showed that in a 30-day period, 11,400 pounds of bait were distributed and 2,080 property owners contacted. Total cost to the county for the program, Sanford stated, was 21 cents per acre.

Council Postpones

Decision On Main

A decision to return Main St. to a one-way thoroughfare from Second St. to Beach Road was postponed at a brief meeting Tuesday morning until Bay St. Louis officials can hear from merchants in that area and from Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner.

Commissioner Andre Arceneaux said that he had received a number of complaints since the council made Main St. two-way November 6, 1972 and only one in favor of the change. Mayor Warren Carver said that he was in favor of making Main a one-way street if Court St. was also made one-way.

Carver said that making both Main and Court Streets one-way had been recommendation of the Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission. However, Arceneaux pointed out that Sheriff Ladner was against the change because it would hinder the movement of sheriff's department vehicles.

Arceneaux said he would contact Ladner and would bring up the proposal again at the next council meeting.

The council discussed but made no decisions on:
- A personal policy for city employees.
- New ordinances regarding the sale and shooting of fireworks.

DEMOCRACY OR DEMENTIA?

The opening of the state legislature—a time of excitement, anticipation and manipulation for the experienced legislator. For the newcomer, fired with patriotic ideas, it's an experience and a time for displaying early blunders. Occasionally, a newly-elected legislator goes to Jackson to fill the post without having actually witnessed the legislature in action. For others, their initial participation has been preceded by an earlier visit to the birthplace of the state's legislative assembly as a high school student.

One such novice lawmaker surrounded by the din of battle of opening sessions, reflects on the course of events leading to the election and his first visit to the capitol as a high school senior.

As a student in civics and social studies, he was well versed on the mechanics of introducing and passing a bill. As he approached the doors of the great chamber he thought of the passages in his civics books describing the serious responsibilities of representatives and senators, men of sagacity and the highest integrity who by their decisions determine the fate of the state.

Entering the balcony area, he sat down and regarded the panorama on the floor. And got the shock of his life.

Now after row of desks and seats fanned out in a large arc from a high platform at the front. That much he had seen in movies. What he was not prepared for was the heavy and constant traffic in the aisles. Those few who were actually sitting at their (or somebody's) desks were reading, eating, talking to a neighbor and several were asleep. He wondered how anyone could sleep with the excessive noise in the arena. A female legislator, dressed in a suit, coat and tie, had quite an array of appetizing looking snacks spread on her desk and the amazed young student realized she was eating non-stop throughout the day long session. By late afternoon, fascinated, he counted seven soft drink bottles neatly lined up beside her desk and three coffee cups into which she methodically stuffed a growing mound of candy wrappers.

Every now and again one of the sleepers awoke, stretched, and snorted through the aisles, chatting jovially and loudly with his colleagues. Little knots and groups of legislators formed, broke up and reformed all over the floor, like amoeba under a microscope. A party was going on at the back end of the chamber which, as it rapidly grew in size and intensity, was perceptibly brought to a halt by one of the senior legislators who had been awakened by the din.

Pages added to the confusion in the aisles as they were dispatched on innumerable trips to the snack bar in the capitol lobby or, given little slips of paper, made mysterious phone calls at booths outside the chamber. From his vantage point in the balcony, the student watched a huge electronic scoreboard on the wall with rows of numbers which lighted up in various combinations at puzzling intervals. He soon came to realize that the combinations of numbers had a lot to do with the pages and their phone calls, but never having been introduced to the sport of kings he never did figure out the correlation.

From time to time a member stationed himself behind one of the podiums at the front of the chamber and launched into a lengthy and loud oratorical seizure. Although he tried desperately to listen, our student found it impossible to understand what the speaker was saying over the babble of voices. He finally gave up realizing that he was the only one listening anyway.

When he first entered, he had noticed an elderly gentleman sitting in solitary splendor behind a raised platform in the very front of the chamber. The student wondered what he had done to be so isolated and why he never got to participate in any of the parties, gatherings and other activities on the floor. Very occasionally he appeared to be speaking but the rest of the crowd paid less attention to him than they did to those who commandeered a microphone or shouted from their seats. The student thought of Demosthenes shouting to the roaring ocean waves and wondered if the kindly looking gentleman had a mouthful of pebbles. He certainly didn't have anything to eat up there.

After several hours of observation, the student left the chamber, sadder but wiser and determined that something had to be done. No wonder we get some funny laws, he thought, with all that confusion its surprising that anything gets passed at all. What they need in there, he concluded sagely, is a man who listens.

The die was cast and an illusion born. He went home to start laying the groundwork. Some years later he returned, a newly elected legislator.

When he left, his mother cried.

The Mississippi Coast Crime Commission is proud and pleased to be a part of this state-wide effort."

Wayland Clifton, Jr., Executive Director of Mississippi's Division of Law Enforcement Assistance, stated, "The Division of LEA is pleased to have played a part in the recent publication and dissemination of these handbooks. NATIONAL PAPER
Association - Founded 1885

Who Pays For Officials' Apathy?

It has been five months since this paper first demanded that something be done to prevent auto accidents at the intersection of Highway 90 and the Beach Road.

Letters from the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce were written to W.H. "Shag" Pyron requesting that the State Highway Department do something to rectify the dangerous situation that exists for those who must drive across the Bay Bridge.

Mr. Sidney Kidd, a safety engineer for the Highway Department, came to Bay St. Louis and promised larger signal lights at the intersection and a large flashing yellow light on the bridge warning drivers of the signal lights ahead.

The larger signal lights were installed but it seems as though the yellow flashing light has been forgotten.

What will it take before something is done? Perhaps another death will move these inert officials to action.

The taxpayers in Mississippi, and particularly in this district, are paying enormous amounts of money for an improved highway system.

Must we also pay with our lives, the lives of relatives, friends and neighbors before we get ONE YELLOW FLASHING LIGHT?

On Wednesday morning, a highway patrolman was called to five separate accidents involving a total of twelve cars.

Where?

You guessed it.

At the intersection of Highway 90 and the Beach Road.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

We happened to be in Fire Chief Richard Fayard's office one day before Christmas when his big fire truck drove in, loaded to the gun's with bags and boxes filled with discarded toys, games and books. The Chief told us that he and his men had collected a raft of bicycles, scooters, and mechanical toys which they were repairing, repainting and making into Christmas gifts which were sure to delight many boys and girls who otherwise wouldn't know the joy of Christmas.

Among the battered relics were scores of dolls and stuffed animals, and these he was turning over to the ladies of the Senior Citizens association. More than fifty of these little creatures were repaired and refurbished by the senior ladies and clothed in pretty new dresses and hair-do's and, we have no doubt, are today being cuddled by many happy little mothers.

Chief Fayard and his busy crew worked late on Christmas Eve playing Santa Claus to scores of children all over town. Their efforts can't be too highly praised; they made the Joyful Day really meaningful for many little kids.

One thing we noticed, however, in the boxes they collected were many children's books, and all of them were trash insofar as they were of any educational benefit to their readers. Kids may not believe this, but a good book can be of inestimable value to them later in life by improving their vocabularies, widening their outlook on geography, and instilling principles of proper human relations. A man once said, "I'd rather have an inch of dog than a mile of pedigree," and the same might be applied to books; it's better to have one good book than a hundred whodunits and wild westerns.

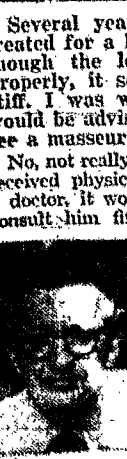

The lack of young people's knowledge of the commoner things of daily life is sometimes amazing. On a recent TV program, four young men and four girls were asked "When do you feel most voracious?" And not one of them knew what the question meant. Then they were asked, "What is your favorite northeastern State?" and the answers ranged from Florida, Kansas and Wisconsin to "San Francisco"; not a single New England State was within their ken.

Parents should see to it that their youngsters read books which will give them knowledge, even if only in their vocabularies, that will be of use to them later in life. And such books don't have to be dull and dry; what could be more interesting and exciting to a child than "Robinson Crusoe" or "Swiss Family Robinson" or to older children than "Two Years Before the Mast" or Hillary's "Mount Everest"? And even oldersters enjoy the thrills and philosophy of "Moby Dick" and the panorama of last-century English life in "Pickwick Papers". As far as children are concerned, the old saw, "A little learning is a dangerous thing," might well be changed to "A little MORE learning will pay off when you get older!"

OUR HEALTH

By C. H. Tracy, M.D.

Several years ago, I was treated for a broken leg. Although the leg has healed properly, it sometimes feels stiff. I was wondering if it would be advisable for me to see a masseur?

No, not really. Since you have received physical therapy from a doctor, it would be better to consult him first. Much harm can come from an improper massage, as muscles and joints can be damaged by too strenuous and too conscientious a massage.

A whirlpool bath occasionally will help to relax muscles and stiff joints.

My husband and I are planning a trip to Alaska soon to visit some friends. I'm excited about going, but fearful of what the cold weather will do to my skin. Any suggestions?

The time to start caring for your skin is now while you're still home. Keep your skin soft and moisturized by using a bath oil such as Alpha Kerol in your daily bath water. You should

A NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION WORTH MAKING AND KEEPING

"I will, like Paul, FORGET those things which are behind and press forward; like David, LEFT up mine eyes unto the hills from whence cometh my help; like Abraham, TRUST implicitly in my God; like Enoch, WALK in daily fellowship with my heavenly Father; like Jehoshaphat, PREPARE my heart to seek God; like Moses, CHOOSE rather to suffer than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season; like Daniel,

COMMUNE with my God at all times; like Job, be PATIENT under all circumstances; like Caleb and Joshua, REFUSE to be discouraged because of superior numbers; like Joseph, TURN my back to all seductive advances, like Gideon, ADVANCE even though my friends be few; like Aaron and Hur, UPHOLD the hands of my spiritual leaders; like Isaiah, CONSECRATE myself to do God's work; like Andrew, STRIVE to lead my brother into a closer walk with Christ; like John, LEAN upon the bosom of the Master and imbibe of His Spirit; like Stephen, MANIFEST a forgiving spirit toward all who seek my hurt; like the heavenly host, PROCLAIM the message of peace and good-will toward all men; and like my Lord Himself, OVERCOME all earthly allurements by refusing to succumb to their enticements. "Realizing I cannot achieve these objectives by myself, I will rely upon Christ, for I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."

Social Security Information

Dr. James J. Yezbick, formerly of Lake Orion, Michigan entered a plea of "no contest" Wednesday, November 1, 1972 in the U.S. District Court, Detroit, Michigan to a charge of filing fraudulent Medicare claims. Dr. Yezbick is currently a resident of Orange Park, Florida.

The investigation of Yezbick was conducted by the Social Security Administration's Bureau of Health Insurance. The Administration charged that Yezbick submitted Medicare claims for services which, in fact, had not been rendered. Yezbick's plea of "no contest" while not an admission of guilt, does have the same effect as a guilty plea and he could receive a maximum penalty of five years imprisonment and/or $10,000 fine. Yezbick will be sentenced at a later date.

This is the forty-sixth conviction involving Medicare claims in the United States. The development and referral of potential fraud cases to the Department of Justice is part of an ongoing effort of the Social Security Administration aimed at assuring proper use of the Medicare program.

County Agent's Notes

John W. Smith
County Agent
Hancock County

Many of our winter pastures are beginning to show a need for additional nitrogen top-dressing according to John W. Smith, County Agent.

The recent dramatic increases in the price of feed, especially protein sources such as cottonseed and soybean meal, make it imperative that we get the most from our winter grazing crops. Ryegrass and winter cereals can easily utilize one pound of actual nitrogen per day of grazing. Many fields had only 60 to 70 pounds of nitrogen at planting and this is about gone.

To build any surplus or backlog of forage to help out during the cold months ahead the plant should have nitrogen available to take advantage of any good growing conditions that occur. I suggest that not more than 80 to 100 pounds of actual N be applied as urea or ammonium nitrate. This would be about 200 pounds of ammonium nitrate, or 150 pounds of 45 percent urea.

These rates should not create any problem with nitrate poisoning if a balanced fertilizer program has been followed. Care should be taken in top-dressing to skip pot-holes or any area holding water that would accumulate nitrate. Also, run-off areas adjacent to ponds should not be fertilized if no sodded areas were left next to the ponds. Some authorities feel that the nitrate that cattle get from drinking out of holes or ponds where nitrogen has been carelessly applied may be severely compounding the nitrate poisoning problem. The foliage of the grass should be dry when the fertilizer is applied.

With the extremely high price of cattle, it is advisable to supply supplemental grain and or hay especially during periods when poor growing conditions exist. Along with this a balanced fertilization program gives the grazing crop the ability to recover quickly from stress. Wise use of nitrogen fertilizer during the winter and early spring is necessary to reduce the possibility of toxicity problems and to produce a profit.

WINTER FARM JOBS
Winter time farming includes subsoiling or chiseling, rowing up heavy soils, liming, applying phosphate and potash if needed, locating good quality planting seed and analyzing what happened to crops in 1972.

If weather permits, Planavon or Treflan should be applied on heavy soils where grass is a problem.

SOYBEAN SEED
Soybean seed production in Mississippi is smaller than in recent years and a poor seed crop is reported from surrounding states. This means that if you expect to get the kind of seed you want for 1973, you had better get busy and book the seed as soon as possible.

Friendship Leads To Marriage For Elderly Couple

A touching story of a life long friendship which culminated in the marriage of two senior citizens was revealed when Mrs. Bertha Meggs and Oscar White were wed in a quiet ceremony in mid-December in her Bay St. Louis home.

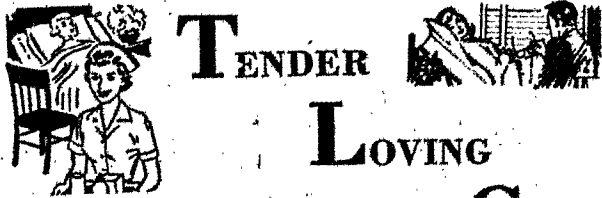

Mr. White, who is in his 80's and Mrs. Meggs, 78, had been friends for many years as lifelong Hancock Countyans. Both widowed some years ago, the two friends lost touch with each other until recently when both were recuperating from illnesses at Gulfview Haven Nursing Home.

There, the renewed friendship turned into a courtship and when each was released from the Nursing Home, they were married in her home on Webb St., with a few close friends and family members witnessing the ceremony.

Principals Emphasize Need For Sportsmanship

All member schools of the Mississippi High School Activities Association have been requested by the Executive Committee of the Association to communicate to their students and fans an article from the Constitutions regarding RESPONSIBILITY.

In a joint statement from the principals of the high schools in Hancock County, James Voelich of Hancock North Central, Robert Magee of Bay High School, and Brother Lee Barker, S.C. of St. Stanislaus, have expressed the need and importance of good sportsmanship at all athletic events connected with their schools. This sportsmanship includes the conduct of players, pupils, and fans associated with the school.

Unbecoming conduct by players, students, or partisan fans can result in a severe penalty, including suspension, being levied against member schools of the Association. Of particular importance is the fact that member schools are responsible for the treatment accorded to officials of athletic contests by players, pupils, and the public.

The three principals in their joint statement reaffirmed the need to keep sportsmanship in sports. The text of ARTICLE X on RESPONSIBILITY from the Constitutions of the Mississippi High School Activities Association is given in its entirety below:

ARTICLE X - RESPONSIBILITY

"The superintendent, principal, coach or other representative of the school in charge shall be the responsible officers of the school. They shall be responsible for the conduct of those connected with their school, both at home and on trips, as representatives of the school and community. They shall be responsible for courteous treatment of visitors, both by those connected with their school and by outsiders, during the game or contest. The school will be held responsible for any acts of violence instigated by the school officials, students or partisan fans. The Executive Committee and the Director of Activities of the Mississippi High School Activities Association, Inc., will recognize no plea of extenuation which suggests that those officers are not responsible."

"The By-Laws of the Mississippi High School Activities Association, Incorporated, state: Member schools shall be responsible for the treatment accorded the officials (athletic) by players, pupils, and the public. Schools may be penalized for the abuse of officials (athletic) by anyone connected with or supporting the school."

Riley Says Committee Should Act On Audit

"On the eve of the convening of the 1973 session of the Mississippi Legislature, the Mississippi Coast Crime Commission has observed with profound regret that the Watchdog Committee of the Mississippi Legislature appointed after the 1972 session has apparently 'psyched' itself into a state of vacillation and inertia," according to a statement issued by Earl Riley, Executive Director of the Crime Commission.

Riley declared, "As early as February, 1972, prior to the appointment of the General Legislative Investigating Committee, MCCC made known to the Legislature the desirability and necessity that action be taken by the Legislative Investigating Committee to conduct an audit of the accounts and records of the Mississippi Association of Supervisors, since it was apparent that this Association was entirely 'sustained' and operated by taxpayers funds. Following the appointment of this Committee, the Crime Commission addressed a letter to Senator Robert Crook, elected Chairman of GLIC, to direct an audit of MAS. This audit was conducted, as requested, by an independent and duly qualified Certified Public Accountant. Much to the dismay of the accountant and the taxpayers of the State, this audit revealed that MAS maintained no records, journals, or receipt books and, according to the auditor, her examination was limited to checking bank statements and check books. The audit clearly established that taxpayers funds were involved and these tax monies were used, in part, to pay a substantial salary and expenses of a public official concurrently drawing a salary as a county supervisor. Most significant," continued Riley, "was the blatant refusal of MAS to permit an audit of its official magazine, alleged by many to be the recipient of considerable tax monies."

Riley said, "The restraints placed upon the auditor and the apparent refusal of the majority of the Investigating Committee to pursue this investigation to a logical and judicious conclusion has left the audit of the Mississippi Association of Supervisors spinning in an ineffectual orbit. One is drawn to the conclusion that the majority of the Investigating Committee might feel that the least said about this matter the better, and the absence of action by that Committee will permit this issue to quietly fade away.

MCCC does not share this logic.

"By letter dated July 24th to Senator Crook the sensitive position of the General Legislative Investigating Committee and its responsibility to investigate critical areas of government throughout the State was brought to his attention, and MCCC respectfully and strongly recommended that no member of GLIC be retained or represent as a legal agent or counsel any department of local or state government. By letter dated December 5, 1972, MCCC specifically pointed out to Senator Crook, Lt. Gov. Winter, as President of the Senate, and Representative John J. J. as Speaker of the House of Representatives, that Representative Stone Barefield of Forrest County, a member of GLIC, is the attorney of record for the Board of Supervisors of Forrest County. Because of the many matters dealing with the activities of supervisors in the operations of county government, MCCC requested that the resignation of Representative Barefield be secured, in as much as his dual services represented an indisputable conflict of interest. It is not our intention to challenge the integrity of Representative Barefield, but we do believe that the best interests of the people of the State of Mississippi cannot be served with such dual alliances, and the people and GLIC could be placed in a most embarrassing position."

Riley said, "That MCCC also brought to the Committee's attention the fact that of the six man Committee, two members were representatives from Forrest County. A more equitable representation for the Committee was suggested at this time."

Riley said, "Senator Crook chose not to respond to the December 5th letter, and he has apparently chosen not to respond to a similar follow-up letter sent to him under date of December 19th."

Riley concluded, "The hopes and aspirations of the people of Mississippi for the improvement of its government at all state levels, makes it imperative that our legislative leadership take immediate steps to correct the untenable existing climate surrounding the General Legislative Investigating Committee and take steps to ensure that it pursue its responsibilities aggressively and objectively outside of the political arena. We agree that additional funds are needed to enable this Committee to accomplish the purposes for which the Committee was organized, but we do believe that a concentrated effort should be made to first justify its existence and qualification for additional funds."

Son of the late J.S. and Minnie Carre Otis, he was born January 23, 1890, in Logtown. A graduate of Logtown public school, he attended Soule Business College, New Orleans, and Millsaps College, Jackson; he then became associated as secretary and bookkeeper with the H. Weston Lumber Company in Hancock County.

Prior to World War II, Mr. Otis established Otis Barge Lines which transported goods along the Mississippi River and to ports between Texas and Florida. He later worked for Cue Oil Company, Bay St. Louis, as foreman on various roadbuilding contracts.

Mr. Otis was a member of the Waveland United Methodist Church. He was active in Diamond Lodge No. 393, F & A M., Pearlport, for 60 years, as a 32nd degree Mason in both the York and Scottish Rites.

A resident of 308 Jeff Davis Avenue, Waveland, he was a member of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, the Mississippi Circuit Clerk's association and worked with the American Red Cross.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from Riemann-Rahey Funeral Home followed by religious rites at Waveland United Methodist Church with Rev. Harold Ryker, pastor, and Rev. Bernard Walton, pastor Main Street United Methodist Church, officiating.

Interment, with Masonic graveside services, was in Logtown Cemetery. Pallbearers were Roy Baxter, Austin Baxter, Ed. Larroux, Lucien Kidd, Sylvan J. Ladner and George Heitzmann.

All Aliens Must Report Addresses In January

Mr. Troy A. Adams, Jr. of the Immigration and Naturalization Service today urged all aliens in the area who have not yet filled out alien address report forms, to do so before January 31 at the nearest Post Office or office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

The Immigration official pointed out that the law requires all noncitizens, except persons in diplomatic status and foreign representatives to certain international organizations, such as the United Nations, to report their addresses to the Government each January.

Mr. Adams added: "The parent or legal guardian of an alien child under 14 years of age must fill out the address report form for such a child in order to comply with the law."

He declared "the procedure to comply has been broadened. The alien can go to the nearest Immigration and Naturalization Service Office or Post Office to acquire the report card. The card can be completed there and returned to the clerk or mailed to the nearest Immigration Office. This will be especially convenient to aliens who are ill or otherwise incapacitated and who have friends who can acquire the card for them."

Mr. Adams stated that the reporting procedures have been made as convenient as possible; and in view of the serious penalties for violation, all persons subject to the address report law are urged to fulfill this obligation before the end of January.

SPARE ME THAT! Fair Donna Phayre can't figure where the odd-looking headphs came from. Actually, the regular bowling pins once looked like the anomalous number one — it's a laminated product containing 23 separate pieces of maple glued together for maximum strength and endurance. When the glued pin has been pressed and dried, it is routed into shape, coated with plastic and painted to look like its more traditional companions. More than 95 percent of bowling pins manufactured in this country are glued with L-100, a product of the Gulf Adhesives division of Gulf Oil's Eastern Marketing Region at Philadelphia.

It's New Year's Eve. I am writing this column as usual for my fishing buddies and friends. Have been writing it for 15 years. Fishing for the past week has been abundant. With plenty rain and high tides the Pearl River section is muddy most everywhere and will probably be for a long time. The river is suffering from high tides and has been for quite a while. Fresh water fishing is out of the question. The rain of Saturday night affected Jourdan River, causing speckle trout to move out. Bayou LaCroix and tributaries are on the bad side, making fresh water fishing impossible.

snipe hunting will continue until Feb. 20th. Duck hunting and Geese hunting still have some time to go.

Speckle trout fishing is practically out around Three Oaks, Outer Campbell, and Upper Campbell, Pearl River proper. Too much dirty water.

The Hancock Supply Co. Inc., wholesale plumbing supplies, had a Christmas party last week. It was an enjoyable affair. Ace Jones and associates made things pleasant for customers and invited friends.

Gene and Ethel Dorman still bring good food products to Clarise's Lounge to be enjoyed by friends. Been doing it for a long time.

Ed (Son) Nelson gave us some good dope on the condition of the waters in Pearl River and Bayou LaCrosse. Devils Island, practically a flat marsh, drains into Walnut House and other Pearl River tributaries, finally reaching East Pearl River. Bayou LaCrosse is affected by waters draining from Dead Tiger, Gum Bayou, and other bayous on the Texas Flat Road. Makes sense.

Junior Johnson visited friends over the New Year Holiday. He lives at Baton Rouge.

Ray Garner had the misfortune of losing a hand-bag of fishing lures on the canals off Bayou Caddy last Thursday. Anyone finding them could give Ray a call at 467-5271. It would make him mighty happy.

A little in advance but the St. Patrick's Day Dance March 10th and St. Patrick's Day Parade March 17th are being arranged by a special meeting at which time the Grand Marshal will be announced. Something to look forward to.

The American Legion and Auxiliary of Waveland had a New Year's get together Saturday night at the Legion Home. Refreshments were served and a good time was had by all.

Here's a good one: Joe Cook Keller said he made and painted 5 decoys. They looked so natural he shot 2 and the other 3 flew away.

Claire Kendall and Harry Brooks love to fish, any kind. Harry is a retired linotype operator.

The Feather Dusters Club was started by Al Champagne picking up a feather off the floor at Clarise's Lounge. Found out where Clayton Seely got the feather for his hat.

Daniel "Dan" Johnston does deep sea fishing. Catches mostly redfish and red snappers. He fishes out of Empire La. Dan is with McGee's Supply Co., Inc.

Ken Fuchich is from Lakeshore. He fishes and hunts. Get's his share of fish and game.

E.K. and Denise McDowell enjoy their fishing. They go on every occasion. Catch crabs, too.

Tim McCarthy plays golf and fishes. Loves both sports.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK

Joe Housey with that happy look on his face is a real sport. Goes fishing and does some hunting. Nothing like being in the outdoors, he claims. You are right Joe, we all agree with you. Anything better?

Jim is with Global Associates at the Miss. Test Facility. His father will visit him during January again to do some fishing and get Coast eating. John McCarthy is from Fayetteville, New York.

Was a pleasure meeting Mr. and Mrs. Leo Miller from Carriere, Miss. They do quite a bit of fishing at the Bay, both fresh and salt water fish. When at home they catch cat fish. What's better than cat fish when it comes to eating?

Met Neil Jackman when in New Orleans for Christmas. Neil at one time was bartender for both Frank Martin and Frank Trapani at their old bars on the Beach.

Met Jacob Haney, Jr., and his wife, Bessy. Jake is with the Rutherford Manufacturing Co., Inc., and Jack Grawen and his wife Dottie. Fine folks. The ladies are sisters of Dan Haggerty, Jr., Clerk of Courts in New Orleans. I think they all enjoy fishing.

Pat Haggerty and Mary Joe were down from Denver, Colo. Met their friends Ted Murray, John Vieau, Roberts Gleason and Marie Muskovin. They are a group of young folks who enjoy fishing and other sports.

The Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission announced the experimental transfer of some 50,000 sacks of oysters from the polluted waters of eastern Lake Pontchartrain and Lake Catherine to a more favorable site.

The oysters are being moved for cleansing and eventual harvest. The move will be tightly controlled and the new beds more closely watched, said a commission spokesman.

Harvesting oysters has been prohibited in eastern Lake Pontchartrain and Lake Catherine for three years because of pollution and the two areas were among the most productive waters for Louisiana oysters until about 25 years ago.

The opening of the Mississippi River-Gulf Outlet which introduced more salt water into the lakes has apparently cleansed the waters and the oysters are making a natural comeback, officials said.

The oysters will be placed in new waters which officials ascribed as top quality areas until they reach maturity and can be harvested.

Barnett Reservoir spillway has been the scene of some fabulous fishing for sea-run striped bass recently, and more of the same is anticipated for 1973. Fisheries biologists will take mature strippers from below the spillway, and use them to artificially reproduce more strippers for stocking in many state waters. (Miss. Game and Fish Commission)

Spent the Christmas Holidays in New Orleans with our families. Had a hell of a usual.

Sam Benigno's Bar which is a tradition every New Year's Day has a lunch for their friends and customers. No exception this year. They have everything from soup to nuts. Both Sam and Jerry are exceptional hostesses.

Another fishing couple is Chester and Caroline Bourgeois. Chester admits Caroline is the best at fishing. She caught a 4-lb. red fish in Bayou Caddy last week. Chester keeps trying, however.

Pete Noto is still catching some speckles in the canals off Bayou Caddy. Pete stays with them. This seems to be the only way to get them. Had eleven the other day.

Alden Mauffray and yours truly went after green trout Sunday. Wound up with three regardless of the bad weather and tide. You can't get'em by staying home, Alden said.

Monday, New Year's Day, proved to be the best ever, regardless of hangovers, etc. All lounges were full of folks wishing each other a Happy New Year. Isn't it wonderful to have such a day and still be living.

The Sidelines Club had a dance at Frank Trapani's, the American Legion had a dance at the Legion Home, Clarise's at Waveland had a swell party for New Year's, not to mention other places. All in all, New Year came in like a lion, as it should be.

SPECIAL - 4-H is expanding into urban and suburban areas and developing new programs to meet the challenges of the seventies. Still, one of the most popular and important programs remains animal raising.

One out of every six 4-H boys and girls are enrolled in one or more different programs involving the breeding and marketing of animals.

The most popular of the 4-H animal programs is the national 4-H horse program, sponsored by TOP FORM Products Dept., Merck & Co., Inc. Over 255,000 young people experience the satisfaction of learning to train and ride a horse, as well as learning all aspects of good horsemanship.

One of the friendliest and most useful animals to man is the cow. 4-H'ers in the national 4-H dairy program, not only learn that, but also how important good care and proper management of cows is to the dairy industry. Over 85,000 4-H'ers are enrolled in the program, supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service and sponsored by Associated Milk Producers, Inc. These young dairy producers are becoming aware of the scope and importance of the dairy industry today, by learning the principles of ownership and care of dairy animals, merchandising, and the importance of having clean dairy facilities.

To 66,000 4-H boys and girls, shepherds aren't men and women referred to in history books. These young people know that shepherds exist in the 70's because they raise and manage their own flocks in the national 4-H sheep program, sponsored by Wilson & Co., and Wilson-Certified Foods, Inc.

Besides the satisfaction of raising their own livestock, 4-H'ers in these three programs are eligible for national recognition.

Six winners in the 4-H dairy program receive $700 scholarships from Associated Milk Producers, Inc. State winners in the program are honored at a special banquet, given by the donor, at the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 26-30.

most armed robbers are addicts

A man in his early 20s stands shaking outside a small store while the owner counts the day's receipts.

The man is desperate—his last fix wore off several hours ago. He pulls a gun, walks in and another crime statistic reads: “Armed robbery 1001 Blank Street, $50 taken. Owner shot and killed”.

A man who's worked thirty years building up a small neighborhood business is dead—so a junkie can get $50 for another day's worth of heroin. And so it goes.

These rookie hijackings are stupid—and dangerous. This national upsurge in armed robbery started with the 'drug culture' in the middle and late '60s. Our law enforcement officers noticed a new breed of criminal: Very young men who robbed and became violent with no apparent reason.

With this vicious menace at hand, it is our duty to report any suspicious characters to your local police.

We are all in this together...Let's stop the drug pusher and crimes will decrease.

Run it up — Don't run it down.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Dog-Caused Collision

Motorists kill dogs at an alarming rate. But dogs can be deadly to motorists, too. One year's study of a single thruway revealed that more than 200 accidents had been caused by dogs dashing in front of cars.

What are the legal consequences of such an accident? If a dog causes injury to a motorist, may the owner of the dog be held liable in court?

Consider this case: A motorist, suddenly confronted by a dog in the street, swerved to the right, struck the dog, lost control of his car, and crashed into a fire hydrant.

Injured, he claimed damages from the owner of the dog under the state's "strict liability" law. And the court held that, since the dog had indeed caused the accident, the owner would have to foot the bill—even with no proof of his negligence.

Strict liability laws, although not yet universal, are already on the books in many states. And even without such a law, a dog owner may be held liable if shown to be negligent.

In another case, a terrier had the habit of assaulting passing vehicles of all kinds. One day he rushed ferociously at a youthful motorcyclist, causing him to lose his balance and crash.

Even with no strict liability law in effect, a court ruled that the dog's owner would have to pay damages. The court said he was guilty of negligence for failing to keep such a troublesome dog under restraint.

On the other hand, there is no liability if the dog—although involved in the accident—was not really its cause. Thus:

A motorist, after barely touching a dog, ran his car into the ditch. But when he sought damages from the dog's owner, the quality of his own driving came under scrutiny. Considering all the circumstances of the encounter, the jury concluded that a reasonably careful driver would have had no trouble staying off the road.

Result: case dismissed.

Upstairs Neighbors

Madge had always been a restless sleeper. But matters went from bad to worse when a young couple with a baby moved into the apartment upstairs.

It seems the baby was teething. To keep her quiet at night, the parents would rattle her around their apartment—in a baby carriage, causing sounds that were plainly audible to the wakened Madge.

Finally she went to court for an injunction. But at the hearing, the baby's father said there was no other way to keep the child from crying. Besides, he pointed out, their carriage had rubber wheels and their floor was carpeted.

The court thereupon tossed out Madge's complaint, saying that a moderate amount of noise must be accepted by those who choose to live in apartments.

"Where people indulge their inclination to be gregarious," said the judge, "they must not expect the quiet that belongs to solitude." Courts generally take this hands-off attitude in disputes between apartment dwellers. Nevertheless, a court may well intervene if the noise gets out of hand. In another case, an upstairs tenant—a do-it-yourself enthusiast—decided to install new parquet flooring. This time, when the downstairs people downstairs went to court, the judge ordered the man to work on weekdays only, from nine to five, and to keep the noise and vibration to a minimum.

What role does the landlord play in these conflicts? Must he take action if the downstairs tenant asks for his help?

In most cases, the answer is no. Take this example:

A downstairs tenant, disturbed by relentless piano playing from the apartment upstairs, asked the landlord to enforce a house rule against such conduct. But the landlord refused to mix in—and his refusal was upheld in a court hearing. The judge said the rules in a lease are put in primarily for the landlord's benefit, to be enforced or not according to his discretion.
